Democratic personages and representatives of various parties were invited to participate in the current events discussion held [REDACTED] United Front Department of the East China Bureau. In this meeting an analysis of the Viet Minh campaign* marked it as a change in strategy from guerrilla warfare to a Communist effort to drive the French from the border area by occupying cities and controlling communications lines. Recent attacks were compared to the Chinese Communist offensive after July 1947, and ultimate victory after further hardships was predicted.
